

Swann, Pam

---

From: M41Mike@aol.com
Sent: Thursday, July 06, 2006 3:02 AM
To: DocketClerk, MOAB
Cc: lgwinn@sciwords.com%inter2
Subject: Let us eat tomatoes!
Attachments: ATTACHMENT.TXT

It may be coincidental that we are just a few days past Independence Day but consumers should be free to eat tomatoes all year long even if they are Ugly Ripe. It is my impression that the Ugly Ripe brand has been developed by Joe Procacci and I find it un American that a business would be restricted from selling it's product under its brand name anywhere in the US at any time.

Thank you and I am counting on the government to promote free trade, not restrain train at my expense! Eating more vegetable is a good thing and my hat is off to Joe for creating a brand name in a commodity business.

Thank you.
Michael Sick
Marketing and Business Development Consultant
12534 Caminito Mira Del Mar
San Diego, CA 92130
m41mike@aol.com
858 509-8930
858 342-0998 cell
Skype ID: mikesick

Services offered:
<http://hometown.aol.com/m41mike/myhomepage/profile.html>

7/10/2006